Minor

Students pursuing this degree will have a minor in Business Administration.

Career Opportunities

Agribusiness majors enroll in an integrated curriculum that provides knowledge in agricultural economics, animal science and business. This degree program unites core courses from agricultural economics and animal science with business courses in accounting, economics and business law to provide a strong foundation for careers in agribusiness. Employment opportunities include jobs with farms, in sales, with processing firms, and with wholesalers and retailers of food and fiber products.

An agriculture degree can prepare you for a career in one of these areas:

|   |                               |
|---|-------------------------------|
| Agriculture service industry management | Food safety and inspection    |
| Agricultural lending                    | Pharmaceutical and feed sales |
| Agricultural publications or media      | Education                     |
| Animal research                         | Ranch management              |
| Crop consultants                        | Soil conservationist          |
| Extension service                       | Wildlife management           |
| Food product development                |                               |
